The Metamorphosis

A theatre play based on the short story of the same title by Franz Kafka

Dear People,

I am Grete Samsa, and I am writing to you on behalf of my brother Gregor, because he is not able to write at the moment.

My – sometimes too excited – brother is a travel agent, and he wants to share his story with you in the form of a performance! He said something like - I did not quite understand it - in this story everything is sweet and lovely, but there is a terrible bitter taste under the candy layer. And that even the sugarbaby will flash her snarling teeth that night. I do not understand those thoughts, but you surely do! Come on, look at my monstrous brother.

Kisses, Grete

Dear People,

*I am writing on behalf of my useless son.
Buy his story, otherwise the financial situation of our family is endangered, this condition is untenable! Someone could buy him, too! It is getting hard to put up with him lately.*

*Yours sincerely,
A Desperate Father and Mother*

Dear People,

I cannot say much now, just promise to show you a new world!

*With love,
Gregor Samsa*
