Empowering People
About the Program
This is a three week summer program in Universitas Airlangga where you can get a new way of learning new culture and contribute in its community development. CERIA as the name of this program also means "happy" and to share happiness which becomes the goal that needs to be achieved.

This program will offer you a week of Indonesian language class and an unforgettable experience to live in rural area in Eastern part of Java, Indonesia that has beautiful nature and unique culture for 2 weeks. It is also an opportunity to broaden your network with the students all over the world.

Social discrepancy is still becoming one of the problems in the world including Indonesia as the 4 most populated country in the world. We invite you to get involved in voluntary teaching activity to help those who are in need.

Our aim is to create more cross-border volunteering opportunity as non-formal social learning that will also benefit you to develop yourself. Being accompanied by Indonesian local students, your presence will be impactful to the community empowerment.

Welcome to Universitas Airlangga, Surabaya!
You will be greeted in Universitas Airlangga, as one of the highly reputable public university in Indonesia, that is located in Surabaya city. Surabaya is the commercial and administrative capital city of East Java Province, a thriving, business, industrial center and the province’s transport hub.
